• ON CAMERA—Dean Calvin D. Linton of the Columbian College, under squint-inducing klieg lights, greets three students in the foyer outside the University Library's main reading room. Council Votes to Alter Present Constitution

• THE STUDENT COUNCIL agreed unanimously in a straw vote to a constitutional amendment to change Council representation from a school basis to a class basis. The action came in a special meeting last Wednesday night.

The amendment, which will be voted on at the next Council meeting states: that Title 1, Student Council, under the Articles of Student Government, Article 3, Section A, which lists members of the Student Council, be altered to read that members shall consist of the President, Vice President, Comptroller, Treasurer, Advocate, Secretary, representatives from the Law School, the Graduate Council, the Medical School and the Engineering School, class officers selected proportionately, residence representatives selected proportionately from all men and women, one member-at-large, and a student activities chairman.

Also, that Article 4, Section A, which refers to the Activities Committee, be altered to read that the Committee shall consist of a student activities chairman, a Student Union Board chairman, a freshman director, a publicity director, a program director, resident students and the member-at-large.

That (1) the program director will function as a cultural chairman and (2) of the members of the Activities Committee, only the student activities chairman, residence representatives and the member-at-large will be able to vote on both the Student Council and the Activities Committee; the Student Union Board chairman, publicity director, and freshman director will vote only on the Activities Committee.

If passed, the amendment will be made into a referendum to be voted on by the student body.

This action is a compromise between the proposed changes sug-

Nemerov Added to Speakers Committee on Objectives For US Civilization Course To Remain in Existence

• POET AND NOVELIST Howard Nemerov has been added to the list of notables scheduled to address the new American Civilization course beginning in the spring.

The 1963-64 Consultant in Poetry to the Library of Congress is the author of six volumes of poetry, three novels, and a collection of short stories. Frederick Guthelm, president of the Washington Center for Metropolitan Studies, will also be speaking during the semester.

The new course will consist of two separate weekly lecture sections meeting on Mondays at 4:10 pm, and on Tuesdays at 7:10 pm. Students may choose either section. The second part of the course, consisting of hour-long discussion sections, will meet at various times throughout the week, in the morning, afternoon, and evening, so that students will not find it impossible to work the course into their schedules.

The course is open to upper division (85 hrs.) students in the School of Engineering, the Law School, the Medical School, the School of Education, and the Columbian College.

Howard Nemerov received his BA degree from Harvard in 1941. His latest novel is The Homecoming Game, published in 1957. Among his poetry volumes are Guide to the Ruins (1950), The Salt Garden (1955), and The Next Room of the Dream (1962), a book of poems and verse plays.

Since 1948, Mr. Nemerov has been a member of the faculty at Bennington College but received a leave of absence to serve as writer-in-residence at Hollins College, and an extension of leave to take the post of Consultant in Poetry in English to the Library of Congress.

Frederick Guthelm is president of the Washington Center for Metropolitan Studies, an independent non-profit research and educational institution specializing in urban problems. He has served for 15 years in Federal agencies concerned with planning, housing and urban development, and ten years as a private planning consultant.

He acted as staff director of the Congressional Joint Committee on Washington Metropolitan Problems. Later, President Kennedy appointed him to the Advisory Board of the National Capital Transportation Agency. He became its chairman and was also appointed to the Administration's Advisory Council on Pennsylvania Avenue.

He is the author of The Potomac (part of the Rivers of America series) and half a dozen other books on architecture and planning.

• THE FACULTY SENATE'S committee on University objectives has decided to stay in existence even though its original set of objectives has already been approved, chairman Hugh L. LeBlanc, professor of political science, told the Senate Friday.

"The committee will become a sounding board for future plans and development of the University," Dr. LeBlanc told the HATCHET after the meeting. "Its major work is still to come."

The committee this fall considered whether it had discharged its responsibilities and should recommend a charter amendment to abolish itself, he said.

"In the past year, the committee reported out a set of objective for the University which was approved by the Faculty Senate and the Board of Trustees and printed in the catalogue," he said. Dr. LeBlanc called this a "necessary first step." He said the committee would turn to a study of specific matters of overall University policy.

"For example, we will examine the affiliation of the University with certain junior colleges," he said. These colleges offer prerequisite courses in public affairs and international affairs for students who then transfer to the University.

Another question, he said, is determining the "optimum size for an urban institution, and if there is an optimum size." Dr. LeBlanc said his committee's work would not conflict with that of any other Senate committee. "We will determine ideas and issues, then pass the matters on to other committees, such as the educational policy committee," he explained.

The Senate heard that the committee on professional ethics and academic freedom is making "excellent progress" in conferences with President Thomas H. Carroll and the Board of Trustees on proposed revisions of the Faculty Code.

Chairman J. F. Davison, of the Law School, said later he expected final adoption by the Senate, the Faculty Assembly, and the Trustees "sometime in the spring."

"There is complete agreement on principles but the very difficult problem remains of drafting the wording of the texts," he said.

Changes in the code will not be made public until after final adoption, but procedures for dismissal of a professor are known to be under consideration. Davison said a gap in the existing code, discovered during the Reichard case is "one of several matters" covered.

Dr. Richard W. Reichard was hired, then fired as a history instructor in 1959 after he refused to discuss his past activities with either the House Un-American Activities Committee or a special University investigating committee.

Road Maps . . .

• THE UNIVERSITY IS growing in size and stature. In order to lessen the growing pains the Faculty Senate is attempting to set up a series of objectives towards which the University should strive. One of the questions the Committee on Objectives wants to answer, according to Chairman Hugh LeBlanc, is the "optimum size for an urban institution." Other goals will also come under consideration.

With new dormitories scheduled to open in the fall, and the construction of the University center in the offing, the character of the University will be undergoing changes, willing or no. The committee will seek to guide the changes rather than let the changes come, then act as historian of such change.

Although "image" is a vague and amorphous term which describes nothing and causes shudders among logophiles, in actuality the committee wishes to determine the direction in which the University should go, not leaving the road to chance. What map and what destination are questions still to be answered.

In dealing with projected size the committee will be thinking along the lines that bigger than ever is not necessarily better than ever. With increased facilities the natural temptation is to increase enrollment. Undoubtedly, with announcement of the dormitory space, dining facilities and new recreational buildings, the application rate will be increasing. The student body will have an even more cosmopolitan make-up than it presently has. Ten years ago a prophet would have been ridiculed had he predicted such far-reaching changes, such rapid growth. The advantage in numbers is that the University will be able to pick and choose. The danger is that it may choose too many.

It is most important in taking stock of its aims, that the University also give serious consideration to raising the admission standards. In a story in today's HATCHET, the average Board scores and class rankings for entering freshmen are quoted. They approximate the national averages. Indeed, only 1500 out of 2500 applicants were accepted. This would seem to indicate a trend toward greater and more careful pre-selection. We can and should afford to be choosers for we are not, by any stretch of the imagination, beggars. Raising the calibre of the school must begin with the process of raising the quality of students accepted. Although we are not an Ivy League school, or a Big-Ten school or a party school, there is no reason why we cannot improve ourselves without making the University into a carbon copy of any of these schools. We must "strive, to seek, to find," first what we are then what we may become.

If we are to remain an urban university and retain the particularly individual character which is associated with rose gardens and Grant school, crossing guards and baby carriages, and army officers arriving in staff cars, then we must not try to make ourselves over into the campus in isolation among the fields of waving wheat. This is not Iowa or Ohio. While much needs to be changed and much of the change will be natural, the Committee on Objectives has the difficult task of assessment now for the future. With the right road maps the destination will take care of itself.

Fellowships For Seniors Now Open

• INFORMATION concerning graduate programs and financial assistance for such programs at universities here and abroad is available for interested seniors.

Students interested in a career in the public service who will receive the B.A. in June are offered an opportunity to apply for fellowships to study at the Universities of Alabama, Kentucky, and Tennessee.

Beginning this June, fellows will serve an internship with a government agency in one of the states, and then will take graduate courses in the 1964-65 school session. After completion of the training period, the students receive a certificate in public administration, and are eligible to continue work on the Master's Degree at the universities.

For information, write to: Coleman B. Ransone, Educational Director, Southern Regional Training Program in Public Administration, Drawer I, University of Alabama. The deadline is March 2, 1964.

In addition, the Scholarship Office here at the University (Building T, 2110 G Street, N.W.) has recent supplements to the source material for such programs. Students planning to begin graduate studies in the fall of 1964, as well as those already in the graduate level, are invited to come to the office to see these materials. Deadlines vary, but the usual time is between Jan. 1 and March 1.

The Office also has information concerning fellowships, scholarships, and assistantships offered by the University. Those interested are reminded that they should see the chairman of the department or the dean of the school concerned as soon as possible. The student must file an application to the graduate program, as well as the application for the fellowships or scholarships.

weekend of President Kennedy's assassination. Amid the familiar cries of some sort of nebulous Administrative intimidation, the Council has again assumed its posture as the avenging angel of student opinion. And in this crusade of Righteousness, marches this newspaper. Why the uproar? The student representatives and the Dec. 10 editorial answer they must "actively and fearlessly watch out for our interests," and protect our right to "destructive criticism."

Hogwash. No interest of any student was served by beating this dead horse. The issue before the Council was whether or not the Administration was wrong. The issue was whether or not anything could be gained by publicly condemning the action. Now undoubtedly President Carroll was wrong to allow the football game to continue. But what good did it do to revel publicly in his error?

Some representatives pictured the vote as a sublime moral issue, i.e. they had to vote, as the students they represented felt. I say these student leaders had a greater responsibility: to advance the interests of the students and their school.

How were these interests served? By giving the local newspapers more of the unfavorable copy that Schwab's letter gave the Nov. 30 Post? By rubbing salt in a wound that was already of extreme discomfort to the Administration?

Perhaps the Council does have a right to destructive criticism, but the exercise of that right is incompatible with responsibility. And in its next few years of unprecedented growth, this school has need of responsible students who will take their place in building rather than destroying.

Is there so little need for positive improvement that the Council has time for these unproductive squabbles? Certainly no person who classifies himself as a "leader" of students should take the narrow view of identifying the students' interests with sniping at the Administration from behind the foliage of student opinion.

I submit that there are times when the "fearless" Student Council should simply keep its collective mouth shut.

• HOLD-UP—Vicki Ronan, playing the title role in "The Ugly Duckling" is held by John Wayne as they rehearse for their performances at 8 and 9 pm Wednesday night in Studio A of Lanser Auditorium. The cast, Vicki, John, Phyllis Rice, Mary-Jane McGill, Ron Scheraga, John Diesem, and Nick Bazan, and Coach Ronald Kryznewski, is producing A. A. Milne's one-act play in conjunction with the Festival of Performing Arts. Admission is free.

Students Needed For Part-time Red Cross Work

• THROUGH THE JOINT efforts of the Red Cross and the George Washington University Interfraternity Council, an opportunity has arisen for students to spend their time constructively and to develop their skills. Volunteers may sign up for either part-time service with the Red Cross Motor Pool or may ask to be called only in the event of emergencies.

In either case, the volunteer must pass a brief driving test at the Red Cross headquarters in service vehicles, which all have automatic transmissions.

Steve Royer, IFC delegate in charge of the program, may be contacted at the Phi Sigma Kappa house.

gested by Leah Figelman of the Student Planning Commission and the present set-up.

The technical aspects of class representation were discussed by Frederick Houser, registrar of the University. In order to be able to tell which class a student is a member of, figures will be printed on all ID cards. One, two, three, four will represent freshman, sophomore, junior and senior, respectively; five, graduate; six, unclassified; seven, eight, nine, first, second and third years of med or law school. This change will go into effect for spring registration in January.

Activities Fee . . .

The time has come for a re-evaluation of the circumstances surrounding the discussion of a student Activities Fee. The Hatchet within its outspoken editorial comment has openly insulted the intellect of the University student body, stating that "The Council . . . decided to take one more chance on the student body." And the Student Council has suddenly turned a deaf ear to the voice of its electorate. For was it not less than a year ago that this same notion of an activities fee was rejected by referendum.

Or perhaps the question is to become once again merely a campaign issue in the impending election of our student government. But this need not be the case. One cannot take issue so much with the rebirth of the student referendum as with the Hatchet's and Student Council's approach which would seem to indicate a lack of reasoned thought.

Go ahead and have the referendum. But before this is done, give detailed consideration to that which is being brought before the student vote. What exactly are the provisions of a proposed Activities Fee? How much will it cost the student? Full-time? Part-time? What is the waiver we hear of? Where will the money go? How much will go to Fall Concert? How much to Homecoming? These are questions to which the answers must be made known to the student before such a referendum.

And finally, then, how are these activities being handled now? Who finances them? Why should the success of our student social events rest on the assurance of financial stability? Certainly it cannot be considered sound business practice to divorce student planning from capital income.

It is at least the responsibility of the Hatchet to demand answers to these questions. The Student Council volunteers none. It is nothing less than a rational approach that presents the facts to the students and allows him to decide accordingly. Intelligent decision is based on established fact, and not opinion.

Brown To Become ROTC CO in Spring

• CADET CAPT. RAY D. Brown, presently Operations Officer on the staff of Cadet Col. Kenneth J. Neubeck, Group Commander of the AFROTC Cadet Corps at the University, will succeed Col. Neubeck as Group Commander for the spring semester. Col. Neubeck is being reassigned as Special Assistant to the Commandant of Cadets.

Brown and his Executive Officer, Cadet Capt. Michael Janney, were selected by a board composed of the Air Force officers assigned to the University AFROTC Detachment.

Capt. Brown will be in command of the 190-member University Cadet Corps and will be responsible to the professor of air science, Lt. Col. Reiser, USAF, for the proper administration and accomplishment of the mission of the Cadet Corps. The mission of the Air Force ROTC program is "to develop in prospective college graduates the qualities of leadership and other attributes essential to their progressive advancement to positions of increasing responsibility as commissioned officers and to prepare them for immediate assignment to duties in the Regular Air Force and the Air Reserve."

Brown, a senior in zoology and a member of Sigma Chi Fraternity plans to attend graduate school in September and then enter the Air Force. As an officer he will be assigned to one of the Air Force's research establishments and work either in his field or in research and development administration.

The new Commander who is from New Jersey, has been associated with the University for five years; he delayed his studies between his junior and senior years to spend six months in the Antarctic working for the National Science Foundation. "A fascinating experience," as he described it.

• ADVICE—Ray Brown, incoming commander of the University AFROTC, receives instructions from outgoing commander Ken Neubeck. Brown will take over command at the beginning of spring semester.

100 Hopefuls Apply Daily For Spring

by Norman LaSalle

• OF THE 2,478 freshmen who applied for entrance to the Columbian College and the School of Engineering this fall, 1,509 were admitted and 720 enrolled, according to George Stoner, assistant director of admissions.

Spring semester applications are arriving at the rate of 100 a day, although in the fall the load is heavier, with approximately 500 letters being received daily.

In the complex process of selection under which applications are scrutinized, admissions officials take College Board scores into particular consideration. Last year, freshmen had mean scores of 538 on the verbal section and 556 on the mathematics. Engineering students scored means of 506 verbally, and 600 mathematically. All students were in the upper 40 per cent of their high school class.

Generally, a B average in high school is acceptable. There are no absolute cut-off scores. When administrators are in doubt they may choose to give a battery of admissions tests or to investigate more fully the references required. Ordinarily, the poor student generally submits more letters of reference. One admissions counselor reported that he asked a candidate "Do you really need all these references?" The student sadly admitted, "Yes!"

Over-solicitation on the part of an applicant sometimes indicates frittered high school years, according to Mr. Stoner.

There was an increase in master's candidates for the fall, this year. Master's candidates should have a B average in their undergraduate majors. Some departments require that the Graduate Record Examination be taken in the senior year. Of 1230 candidates who petitioned, 693 began classes in the fall.

Ninety-three per cent of all freshmen are full-time students, and a high percentage are campus-dwellers, according to Mr. Stoner.

Debaters End Eighth in Dixie Classic Meet

• VARSITY DEBATERS finished eighth in a field of 28 at the annual Dixie Classic Tournament held at Wake Forest College last weekend.

The two-man team, composed of Hugh Hecla and Dion Meek, defeated five of the eight schools that they met. Wins were over Clemson, Illinois Normal, Georgetown, Carson-Newman, and Davidson. The losses were to South Carolina, who won the tournament, West Virginia, and the University of Illinois. Last year the team was able to win only two out of eight debates at the same tournament.

At other points on the debating circuit, the affirmative team of Richard Moll and Tom Harris won second place affirmative honors at the University of Pittsburgh Cross Examination Tournament. Jerry Sazama and Vic Clark upheld the negative side of the question.

Saturday Night Fight at TEP House Hospitalizes Haenel

• TEMPER FLARED and knives flashed on G St. Saturday night in a small-scale/donnybrook. The altercation originated in the Tau Epsilon Phi fraternity house at 2006 G St., N.W., and spilled out into the street, where some of the antagonists wound up scuffling on the lawn in front of University President Thomas Carroll's office.

The row on Fraternity Row began when a vigilante committee of the fraternity, discovered some unidentified, young men rummaging through pocketbooks upstairs, and decided to expell them.

In addition to the physical casualties, the TEP's reported the loss of six sweaters and more than $50. Police appeared, but made no arrests.

The blow-by-blow account of the battle is reported here in the words of TEP active Steve Haenel who tells a remarkably coherent story for someone who purportedly received a smashing blow with a bottle.

Haenel said, "Harvey Mallis, Louis Richmond and I caught two guys rummaging through girls' pocketbooks upstairs about midnight. I grabbed one of the boys and threatened to throw him out of the party. Louis was at that time downstairs with another boy, reprimanding him . . . all of sudden I see this other boy who I was talking to take a swing at Louis and I hit him and we were pushing them out the door onto the steps and all of a sudden he grabs a hold of Louis and they go off the stoop and Louis knocked his head on some bricks out in the front yard.

"Louis was stunned for a while and I jumped off the stoop and knocked the kid on the ground. As I was hitting him somebody came from behind and knocked a bottle of scotch over my head" (some observers reported that it was a bourbon bottle, others thought it was a beer bottle).

"I stumbled to the ground and while I was getting up Neil Hausig came and started pounding the living daylight out of 'em. I got up finally and asked who hit me with the bottle, and one of my brothers pointed to a boy running. I ran across the street and gave him a left uppercut to the jaw and knocked him onto President Carroll's lawn.

"The boy kept yelling, 'Don't hit me!' and all of a sudden he pulled a knife. When I saw the knife, I kicked him in the stomach, and . . . You see this knuckle? (Haenel exhibited a truly red and swollen knuckle) I broke his nose with this knuckle—I know I broke it—and the knife fell from his hand.

"Then this boy named Joe Schwartz, Lillian Capparelli's date, had grabbed a trophy in the house, and he hit the kid over the head with it.

"My date was marvelous—she tried to hit one of the boys over the head. And earlier when Harvey Mallis' date tried to restrain me from punching the boy, I accidentally pushed her and she fell on her chin and had to have six stitches."

Haenel said Mallis later drove him to the University hospital, where X-rays showed he had sustained a concussion.

Linton Acts in Scene of Film Shot Here for World's Fair

• THE HEAVY CABLES, the aluminum ladder blocking the doorway, the boxes with Todd-A-O stencilled across their lids, the camera, the floodlights, and Dean Calvin Linton—all were in the first floor lobby of the Library last Tuesday afternoon to film a scene of the "Man in the Fifth Dimension."

The movie contains quotations from great men, past and present. World Wide Pictures chose Dean Linton to quote from his article, "What Happened to Common Sense?" printed in the Saturday Evening Post of April, 1962. The article is concerned with the gullibility of the educated man, and the tendency of modern education to encourage man to place his blind faith in authority.

The scene, which lasts about 30 seconds, shows Dean Linton chatting with a few students, as he walks into the lobby of the Library. The statue of George Washington, with the seal of the University behind it, is also shown.

After the filming in the Library Friday, Dean Linton flew to New York where a three-minute scene was filmed on Saturday in a studio simulating a seminar situation. Arrangements for University participation in the production were coordinated by Mrs. Lillian Brown of University Radio-Television.

During the filming Dean Linton was reportedly popping in and out of the reserve book reading room with comments such as "Applause, Applause!" and "I don't see how any of you can study in here while I'm acting!"

"Man in the Fifth Dimension" depicts the educational and religious development of man from creation to the twenty-first century. Quotations from Biblical prophets and Greek philosophers are also included. The movie will be shown in the Billy Graham

Davidson Keeps Conference Lead As WVa Fails

• IN SOUTHERN CONFERENCE play this week Davidson remained undefeated by adding two more impressive victories, while the normally sharp West Virginia University ball club could only muster one victory in three contests.

Early in the week Davidson smashed tenth-ranked Ohio State in a great upset by hitting 59 percent of their shots. Fred Hetzel, last year's best player in the conference, went out on fouls with only 16 points, but teammates Dick Snyder and Terry Holland added 25 and 22 points respectively to complete the first home upset for the Buckeyes since 1959.

Last Friday, Hetzel steered clear of too many fouls and scored 40 points to lead Davidson in a 121-93 victory over Jacksonville University. The 6'9" center from Bethesda, Md., helped his school break its scoring record set last season in a 115-54 victory over New Hampshire.

Last Tuesday night the West Virginia Mountaineers eased past Richmond 97-71 in a home game, but this was the only victory of the week. The weekend proved unlucky for the Morgantown eagles as they fell before V.M.I. 69-64 on Friday night and the Maryland Terrapins 74-72 on Saturday.

• WELL, THE LAST weekend before Christmas vacation brought with it quite a bit of activity both planned and unplanned.

Friday night found the Zetas and the TEKES at the French underground. Word has it the punch packed quite a kick, just ask the Indian Signers and the Under the Table Clubbers. The 3rd Precinct made a couple of unannounced visits brought on by the rather loud music; Sharfman's crowd really knows how to give a party.

Saturday night was really busy. The Phi Sigma Sigmas, ADPI's and Kappa Sigmas all had their pledge formal. The Phi Sigs got their joy juice at Gali Ross's and sobered up at Marilyn Dove's. The whole affair was a blast—just ask Shoe Shine. Nonna Gootan hosted the ADPI cocktail party at which Ed McCullough and Mary Anne Keating made the scene in the pantry with the punch. One never knows what will go on in a pantry. At the dance, Claudia Mann flew around the dance floor with her King of Diamonds, while John "the Birdman" Calomeris and Chris stuck to the mistletoe the entire evening. The Skyline Inn was the scene of the twisting Sigma Kappa formal. Carol and Dick kept the dance floor busy, it seems they never could find a seat. The highlight of the evening was the crowning of Ed Wine as SK Sweetheart.

As a reward for a few moments of hard work in preparation for Saturday's Phi Sigma Delta pledge party, the actives, led by Joel Rosenberg, took the naive fledglings on a scenic tour of Virginia. When will these freshmen ever learn not to trust their actives?

Saturday night the Phi Sigma Kappas held their Annual Christmas Formal. As is customary, they chose their Moonlight Girl for the coming year who is Becky Crivett, the pinmate of Dick Nichols.

Soccer Team Wins First Game This Season

● THE SOCCER TEAM ended its Fall season with a 3-2 win over the Tenley Soccer Club on Sunday. This was the team's last game until the middle of January and the first win of the season.

Scores by Victor Corromba and Miquel Saab in the first half and Bill Jarmon in the second highlighted the game. Both Tenley scores were in the first half.

Playing in the twenty degree weather on an icy field, the GW team dominated the play for most of the game. With both defense and offense working together, the win showed results of hard work during the fall.

Starting a two-game spring season in January, the team will be directed by Bill Jarmon, replacing Woody Bentley, who is graduating.

THE BEARD FAD ON CAMPUS WILL END DEC. 26

Sweethearts and parents will be giving REMINGTON® LEKTRONIC II shavers for Christmas. Shaving will become easier, cleaner and more comfortable than having a beard.

Here's why:

There's the cordless feature. Sealed-in, rechargeable energy cells let you shave without a plug. And what shaves they are! 348 cutting edges of high-carbon steel (sharper and tougher than stainless steel) whisk whiskers off. These edges are honed on an angle. So whiskers get sliced off instead of "ploughed up." 756 whisker-gathering slots in the big shaving head feed whiskers to the cutters faster. And on top of the shaving head: REMINGTON Roller Combs. Adjust to any skin or beard—protect skin; set up whiskers.

Forget to recharge? There's a cord. Plug it in and shave anywhere—so get a REMINGTON LEKTRONIC II for Christmas. After all, you wouldn't want to be the only non-conformist on campus who isn't clean shaven.

Undefeated Frosh Hoopsters Try To Top 1961-62 Record

by Pete Botos

• THE FRESHMAN basketball team is off to a good start this year, with three quick victories, two against Bolling Air Force Base and one against West Point Prep. But according to Coach George Klein, it's still too early to determine the progress of the team. He said that the Baby Buff will have to play a few more games before any accurate judgment can be made.

This year, the team has nine scholarship holders, with one non-scholarship player. Starting at guard, and as co-captain of the freshman team is Joe Lolli. Lolli is 5'8", weighs 150 lbs. He comes from Scranton, Pa., where he played ball at Dunmore High and made second team, All State.

Dick Ellis is a guard from Schenectady, N.Y., where he played ball for Draper High. He stands 6'2" and weighs 165 lbs. Dick is considered to be the best shooter on the team, and he is the only player in the Schenectady area to win the basketball scoring title and baseball batting championship in the same year. Another guard is Steve Mikos, Mikos is 6' and weighs 190 lbs. He comes from Staten Island, N.Y., where he played ball at St. Peter's High. Another guard is Terry Grefe. He comes from McLean, Va., stands 6'2" and weighs 160 lbs. Grefe is the finest competitor on the team, according to Klein.

The fifth man at guard is Don Matthews, a local boy. Don played basketball at Washington and Lee School in Arlington, Va., and is the only non-scholarship player on the freshman team.

Starting at forward is Joe Pignatiello from Boston, Mass. Joe stands 6'5" and weighs 190 lbs. He came to the University highly recommended by Red Auerbach, coach of the NBA champion Boston Celtics; Coach Auerbach played for GW under Coach Reinhart.

The next forward and another starter, is Ed Rainey from Freeport, Neb. He is 6'5½" and weighs 185 lbs.

At center, and starting is Dick Ballard, the high scorer on the team. Ballard, whose home town is Kenton, Ohio, is the second tallest man on the team, standing 6'7" and weighing 190 lbs.

With Bob Nugent, the second man at center, the Baby Buff have their tallest and heaviest player. Nugent, who lives in Freeport, Long Island, is 6'8" tall and weighs 210 lbs. Bob gives excellent depth on the front court, but because of a shoulder injury hasn't played very much.

So far, Coach Klein has been stressing defense, because he feels that the team is still weak in this department.

The freshman team has looked good in its first three games, perhaps this year's team record will be as successful as the 1961-62 freshman team (14-1).

Colonials Lose to VMI, 80-75; Furman Romps Free, 53-49

• THE COLONIALS MET defeat in two uninspiring games during the past week. Both VMI and Furman were winless in their previous games before their trips to Fort Myer.

The Buff was paced by Kenny Legins' 22 points on Tuesday, but Jeff Gausepohl pumped in 29 points for the Keydets as VMI won 80-75. Joe Kruszewski hit for 25 points for his high in college ball. Coach Reinhart missed the game due to a gallstone condition, but he was back for the Furman game. Although the Colonials got two more field goals than the Keydets, VMI hit for 20 free throws and the margin of victory.

In what some fans described as a "dull and sloppy game," the Purple Paladins of Furman handed the Colonials their second defeat of the week. Led by Leroy Peacock's 22 points, the Paladins played slow down basketball that almost brought the Buff's offense to a standstill. Scoring only 21 points in the first half, the Colonials lost 53-49. Mark Clark's 13 points and Harvey Mallis' 11 points paced the scoring for the losers.

The difference in the game can again be found at the free-throw line as Furman hit 15 for 17 foul shots in the second half and 23 of 27 throughout the game. The Colonials made only 11 of their 49 points on free throws.

With a record of 1-6, the Buff must snap out of the doldrums soon, or Colonial fans will be faced with another losing season.

Farrell Injured In Auto Crash, May Play Again

• EDWARD "DUKE" FARRELL, varsity basketball player for the University, is listed as in "fair condition" at Fairfax General Hospital, after being hurt in an automobile accident in Fairfax, Va., Saturday.

The accident occurred at 8:30 pm as Dick Sheehan, a University student, was driving Farrell home after having supper at Sheehan's home.

According to Jeff Feldman, who was in the car at the time, Duke has deep facial cuts and his face needed extensive stitching. He apparently does not have a concussion or broken bones.

Feldman stated that he felt that Farrell would be out for the rest of the season and would be able to play only if he wore a protective mask.

Coach George Klein visited Duke Monday morning and reported that, though the facial cuts are numerous, they are not as deep as had been previously supposed. Duke will definitely not be able to play basketball until after the holidays, but he is expected to return to the court later in the season.

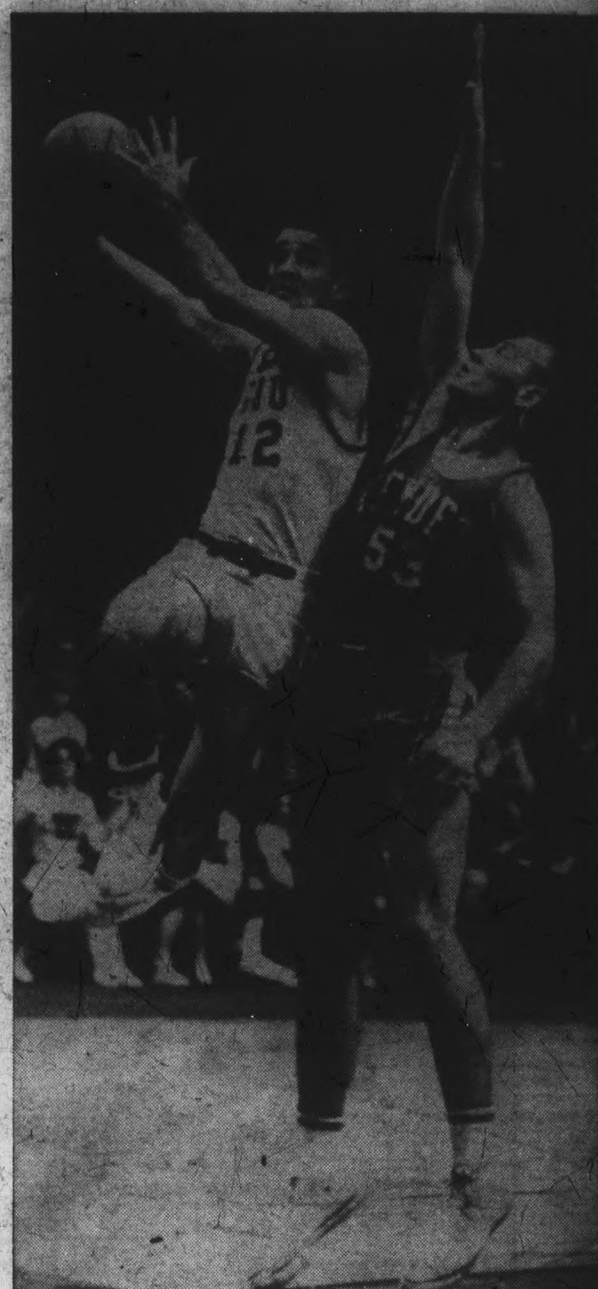

Publicity . . .

• ORGANIZATIONS WANTING publicity should contact University radio station WRGW.

Drummond, Holland, Duenkel Take Conference Honors

• ALTHOUGH THE FOOTBALL team had a losing season, many of the Colonials received post-season honors.

Dick Drummond was named to the Southern Conference for the third consecutive year. He also received an honorable mention All-American from a national press service. Winner of the award for the most valuable Colonial player, Dick has been picked to play in the nationally televised Senior Bowl in Mobile, Ala., on Jan. 4. Merv Holland placed on the Southern Conference second team

• "THE DUKE" takes a jump shot in Monday night's game with VMI as Keydet high scorer Jeff Gausepohl follows through. "Duke" Farrell scored 14 points for the Colonials against VMI. His average is 9 points per game for six games. He has started in five games.

Buff To Face Road Series; Georgetown at Home, Jan. 4

by Jim Campbell

• THIS WEEK AND during the Christmas vacation, the Colonials will play five games that may prove to be exciting or exiting, depending on how the team can shape its winning ways.

This Wednesday, the Colonials will travel to Richmond, Va., and face the Spiders of the University of Richmond. Last year, in action against the Colonials, the Spiders lost in both of the meetings. This year's team is playing without its leading scorer Danny Higgins, forward-center George Grodzicki, and Coach Les Hooker. Replacing Higgins is John Telepo, who has been proving to be the team's most exciting and durable player this year, and replacing Coach Hooker is Lewis Mills, last year's freshman coach. Only time will tell whether or not the Colonials can keep up their good record against them.

Dec. 27 will find the Colonials at Owensburg, Ky., playing Kentucky Wesleyan and Mississippi State in the All-American Tournament. The Buff, the only Southern Conference team participating, could bolster its won and lost record by defeating two teams that are rough in their own conferences.

Blacksburg, Va., is the next stop for the team, as they face the Gobblers of VPI, Dec. 30. Last year, the Gobblers defeated the Colonials in both meetings, when they were supposedly a weak team, and they are reported to be an improved one this year. VPI has partially rid itself of the weak bench that plagued it in so many games last year. The best crop of sophomores in the history of the school, according to reports, add speed and rebounding, two things that the Techmen usually have lacked and things that make them a greater threat.

Finally, on Jan. 4, the Colonials come home to Ft. Myer and face the Hoyas of Georgetown, a team that has been doing very well so far this year. The George Washington-Georgetown conflicts are traditional and they usually are free-for-all contests that are exciting until the last moments. Last year, the Colonials lost both of the games, but they still proved to be thrillers up to the final buzzer.

We have five games between now and the end of Christmas vacation; five games that can be very telling as to the University's future in basketball, and five games that would look very good on the win record.
